Overview :

Spiti Valley is a Himalayan desert mountain valley situated at an average height of 13,000 feet in the north-eastern part of the Indian state of Himachal Pradesh.

Spiti Valley is a cold mountain desert located in the rain shadow region of the Greater Himalayan ranges. It is nestled in the north-eastern part of Himachal Pradesh. The valley is bordered by the districts of Kinnaur in the south-east, Kullu in the south, and the valleys of Zaskar and the Union Territory of Ladakh in the north. In the east, Spiti shares its boundary with Tibet (China).

Spiti Valley serves as both a research hub and a cultural center for Buddhists, drawing visitors with its unique attractions. Among its highlights is the Key Monastery, renowned as one of the world's oldest monasteries and a personal favorite of the Dalai Lama.
